1. In the office of Joko Jancic, member of the Communist Party in the Yugoslav Legation, Charge d'Affaires Chahinpatchitch (Shahinpasic?) was questioned by the officials of the Legation about the Marshall plan. Chahinpatchitch is reported to have declared the following:
 - a. The economic plan of Marshall signifies on the one side the imperialism of the dollar of capitalistic America, and on the other side the creation of an anti-communist bloc.
 - b. We have always said that we do not want a war, because the people have shown a great comprehension for our ideology after this war, and we hoped to obtain the necessary change in the world by passive means and an evolution. Yet the resistance of the capitalistic countries, which is beginning to rise, would easily lead us to another war.
 - c. We do not want to lose our actual position in the world, which we have conquered during this war with so much effort and have paid for with so many sacrifices in men and material. Consequently a war is very possible at present and we have to be prepared to all possibilities.
 - d. Our five year plan for the reconstruction of the country is based on the possibilities of a war in the near future, and we are sure that we will not be caught unaware, even if the war does break out before the time.
 - e. Realization of the Balkan Confederation is very near. In recent days the last points of the constitution of the Balkan Confederation were drawn.
 - f. The Confederation will comprise Yugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria and later, democratic Greece.
2. Jancic was asked about the diplomatic representation of the new Confederation abroad. It was Chahinpatchitch who replied as follows:
 - a. Every country which is a member of the Balkan Confederation, will have its own diplomatic representation and its own delegates in the United Nations. Each of those countries will have its own ministry of Foreign Affairs, its ministry of National Defense and Army.
 - b. Organs of central power of this Confederation will have to watch the coordination of political, economic and cultural life of these countries.

3. At a usual weekly meeting (18 July) in the Cairo Yugoslav Legation, Janchenko and Chahinpatchitch were discussing Greece and the Marshall plan. Janchenko said:

- a. We will continue to fight in Greece until the final victory, which we are convinced will come soon. Operations which have just begun were well prepared by us. You know very well that we have concentrated some hundred thousand militant volunteers on the Greek borders. (He said the Russian word: "Stotishatch").
- b. We foresee two stages in our operations. In the first stage small detachments will be engaged on a wide front which will aim at scattering and destroying the Greek Army, forcing it to engage all its reserves. The second stage should begin by the end of August or September. In this stage we will engage the bulk of our reserves, which will at this time be much superior to Greek reserves, to execute and attack. This will completely isolate the land east of Salonika. At the same time we will make another attack to conquer Epirus. These conquests are necessary for our further operations in the direction of the capital and also for reinforcing our troops by our partisans in Epirus who are quite numerous. During the second stage we also foresee a diversion in Peloponnesus. We are very satisfied with the good morale of our fighting partisans in the Greek struggle.
- c. Beside our parties in Eastern Europe, a large number of volunteers was furnished by the French and Italian Communist parties. With the help of the French Communist Party we have mobilized veterans who have distinguished themselves in the Spanish Civil War, and they have supplied us also with heterogeneous units. We are pleased with the men of Thorez in France.
- d. The French Communist Party will have to begin fighting in Spain when the time comes. It will be a fight of vengeance and the role of the French Communist Party will be similar to this of your party.

Comment: It is believed that he wanted to say that it was the Yugoslav Communist Party which was directing the struggle in Greece.)

- e. We are very satisfied with the course of events in Paris at this conference concerning the famous Marshall plan. Those facts give us one more reason to accelerate the establishment of "democratic" regimes in Eastern Europe. We hope that the reactionary elements, which still exist in these countries, will be definitely eliminated by the end of this year. It is then that we will give our answer to Marshall, after the proclamation of the Union of all the countries of Eastern Europe with USSR.
- f. Czechoslovakia and especially Austria cause a lot of anxiety. In Czechoslovakia the reactionary elements oppose us openly and they are reinforcing their position. As soon as our task is finished in Hungary, we will work more actively in Czechoslovakia. We have a lot of confidence in Gotwald, and we hope that, like others, he will prove to be capable for the task. We will, however, have to reinforce him. It seems that Austria will become another Greece for us.
- g. You can all be sure of USSR help which will go to the extreme in this question. We think that we have already given enough concessions to the American capitalists. Actually we are waiting for the end of the harvest, and then we will be prepared to any eventuality.
